

The Cinderella Project

Many girls dream about Prom from the time they enter high school, envisioning what they will look like and who their Prince Charming will be. For many, the dream of wearing that special dress may be unattainable, due to financial need.

Elk Grove High School will hold its third student-run Cinderella's Closet on Saturday, April 30, from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. in the school cafeteria. The event will offer "gently used" dream dresses, shoes, and accessories. A $5.00 donation will be accepted at the door to shop at the event, but no one will be refused entrance for inability to pay. Every girl can shop for a dress and a pair of shoes at no cost. Donated dresses will be accepted through Friday, April 29, in the school's main office. There have been similar projects over the years at EGHS, but organizers are hopeful that The Cinderella Project will bring new interest among the student body, so that it will continue as an annual event. Elk Grove Student Council officers are the coordinators for The Cinderella Project, along with Student Council sponsor, Cindy D'Alessandro.

The community is also invited to participate in The Cinderella Project by donating gently used prom dresses and or accessories. Email Cindy D'Alessandro at cindy.dalessand@d214.org or call the school's main office at (847) 718-4400 for more information.
